1) Role of Sabine Apartments as a Nominal Party:

- i) Sabine Apartments is included solely as a nominal party to ensure comprehensive relief. Their role in this litigation is to provide procedural clarity and support for the administration of any court orders involving Plaintiff’s tenancy. Plaintiff reiterates that no claims are directed against Sabine Apartments, as they have consistently acted in a professional and compassionate manner throughout her tenancy. Their inclusion is procedural, allowing the Court to ensure the equitable resolution of the issues related to rent payments and housing stability.

- ii) DHA induced Plaintiff to move to Denver, Colorado, by misrepresenting its ability to manage Plaintiff's Section 8 voucher and fulfill its obligations to pay rent on Plaintiff's behalf. DHA's failure to pay the landlord has resulted in eviction proceedings, severe emotional distress, and the imminent threat of homelessness. The extent of the damage caused by DHA's actions extends beyond mere contractual failings, encompassing significant violations of Plaintiff's constitutional and civil rights as detailed herein. Furthermore, the broader context of DHA's discriminatory conduct highlights systemic issues in the administration of housing programs, disproportionately harming vulnerable individuals like Plaintiff who belong to protected classes.

2) Denver Housing Authority:

i) Claim One: Breach of Contract

Supporting Facts:

1. Defendant DHA entered into an agreement with Plaintiff to manage her Section 8 voucher and make timely rent payments to her landlord, Sabine Apartments.
2. Exhibit 1 is a March 8th 2024 email from Denver Housing Authority staff Edithsenia Garcia, where Denver Housing Authority confirmed porting-in of my Section 8 from Flagstaff (Arizona) to Denver (Colorado), where it would take over administration of my Section 8 for a suitable apartment in Denver.

3. DHA approved a reduced rental rate of $1,835 per month for an 18-month lease, which was within the voucher's "Estimated Contract Rent Amount" of $1,854.
4. Exhibit 2 is screenshot of a May 20th 2024 email to me from landlord Sabine Apartments. In it, Sabine Property Manager Megan Hayes disclosed to me its negotiations with Denver Housing Authority, which vowed to pay the lower $1,835 monthly rent for a longer period of 18 months in contrast to the usual 12 month lease period I had expected. Megan's email further highlighted Denver Housing Authority's awareness of its obligation to pay my Sabine Apartment's Section 8 rent, stating that "DHA is stating that they cannot approve the $1849 rental rate, but can do a maximum of $1835.

5. Exhibit 3 is a screenshot of my Section 8 "estimated Contract Rent Amount" of $1,854, yet Denver Housing Authority failed to pay my landlord the $1835 monthly rent, causing to me to face impending homelessness due to the eviction proceedings from landlord Sabine Apartments.

8. DHA's failure to meet its obligations constitutes a breach of contract and has caused Plaintiff financial harm, emotional distress, and the imminent threat of homelessness. DHA's refusal to engage or respond to Plaintiff's attempts to resolve these issues demonstrates a complete disregard for its contractual responsibilities, leaving Plaintiff in an untenable situation where she was forced to navigate eviction proceedings.
 9. The harm inflicted by DHA's breach of contract extends beyond monetary damages, as it has destabilized Plaintiff's living situation and caused severe emotional and psychological distress.
- ii) Claim Two: Fraudulent Inducement
- Supporting Facts:
1. Defendant DHA assured Plaintiff that it would manage her Section 8 voucher and make timely rent payments to her landlord.
 2. Relying on these assurances, Plaintiff ported her Section 8 voucher from Flagstaff, Arizona, to Denver, Colorado, and moved into the apartment in question on May 31, 2024 when my lease started.

3. DHA's failure to fulfill these assurances demonstrates that its representations were false and intended to induce Plaintiff into relocating to Denver. DHA's actions constitute fraudulent misrepresentation and inducement.
4. Plaintiff would not have moved to Denver had she known DHA would fail to fulfill its obligations, causing her severe financial and emotional harm, including eviction proceedings and homelessness.
5. DHA's false assurances and subsequent neglect highlight a pattern of misleading conduct designed to entice vulnerable individuals like Plaintiff into untenable living arrangements, only to abandon their obligations when it matters most.

iii) Claim Three: Violation of the Fair Housing Act (FHA)

Supporting Facts:

1. Plaintiff is a Black female with documented disabilities, protected under the FHA.
2. DHA's failure to make timely rent payments disproportionately impacts individuals like Plaintiff, creating discriminatory effects in violation of the FHA.
3. Statistical evidence shows that Black women are disproportionately affected by eviction and housing instability, and DHA's conduct exemplifies these patterns by denying Plaintiff stable housing.
4. The FHA prohibits actions that have a disparate impact on protected classes, and DHA's conduct has deprived Plaintiff of housing stability, undermining her right to fair housing.
5. DHA's actions reflect systemic bias and discriminatory administration of housing programs, further marginalizing already vulnerable populations and perpetuating cycles of inequity and instability for protected groups.

iv) Claim Four: Violation of Procedural Due Process (Fourteenth Amendment)

Supporting Facts:

1. Plaintiff has a property interest in stable housing, which is protected under the Fourteenth Amendment.
2. DHA's failure to administer its Section 8 obligations has resulted in eviction proceedings against Plaintiff without adequate process or notice.
3. Despite Plaintiff's repeated attempts to contact DHA's staff via email and phone to resolve the payment issues—including communications on December 14, 2024—DHA failed to respond or provide any justification for its actions.

4. Exhibit 5 is a screenshot of the email I sent Denver Housing Authority staff Edithsenia Garcia on December 14th 2024, in panic and experiencing a lot of anxiety. I informed Edithsenia about the eviction notice landlord Sabine Apartments had just issued me, which had at least $10,000 accumulated $1835 unpaid monthly rent bill. I asked Edithsenia what was going on, and since when did Section 8 stop paying my rent from time I ported-into Denver (Colorado) from Flagstaff (Arizona)? Denver Housing Authority ghosted me.

5. DHA's inaction deprived Plaintiff of the opportunity to contest or address the termination of her benefits, violating her due process rights and exacerbating the risk of homelessness.
6. The lack of procedural safeguards underscores DHA's indifference to the basic rights of individuals like Plaintiff, whose reliance on public housing assistance places them in an inherently vulnerable position.

v) Claim Five: Violation of the Equal Protection Clause (Fourteenth Amendment)

Supporting Facts:

1. Plaintiff, a Black female with disabilities and a naturalized American citizen of Ugandan national origin, belongs to multiple protected classes under the Equal Protection Clause.
2. DHA's conduct disproportionately harms individuals in Plaintiff's protected class, creating discriminatory effects.
3. National statistics show that Black women, especially those with disabilities, face higher rates of housing instability and eviction compared to other groups.
4. DHA's failure to equitably administer the Section 8 program and its neglect of Plaintiff's needs exemplify this discriminatory impact, violating the Equal Protection Clause.
5. By perpetuating systemic inequities through discriminatory practices, DHA has failed to uphold its duty to provide fair and equitable housing assistance, thereby undermining the fundamental principles of equality enshrined in the Fourteenth Amendment.

vi) Claim Six: Violation of the Spending Clause

Supporting Facts:

1. DHA's Section 8 program is federally funded and subject to the requirements of the Spending Clause.
2. DHA's failure to administer these funds as intended undermines the program's purpose and causes harm to individuals like Plaintiff who rely on this assistance.
3. DHA's inaction breaches the conditions of federal funding, which require fair and effective administration to prevent harm to program beneficiaries, and violates the intended purpose of these funds.
4. By failing to meet its obligations, DHA has not only jeopardized Plaintiff's housing stability but also mismanaged taxpayer-funded resources that were meant to serve the public good.
5. This mismanagement highlights systemic issues within DHA's operations that undermine the goals of federal housing initiatives, causing disproportionate harm to protected groups.

vii) Claim Seven: Intentional or Negligent Infliction of Emotional Distress

Supporting Facts:

1. DHA's actions have caused Plaintiff severe emotional distress, including heightened anxiety, depression, and exacerbation of PTSD symptoms.
2. Plaintiff's December 14, 2024, email detailing her eviction notice and seeking urgent resolution received no response from DHA, leaving her in a state of uncertainty and fear.
3. DHA's failure to fulfill its obligations demonstrates intentional disregard for Plaintiff's well-being and gross negligence.
4. Plaintiff's mental health has significantly deteriorated as a direct result of DHA's conduct, compounding the harm caused by their inaction.
5. The emotional toll of DHA's negligence underscores the broader human impact of systemic failures in housing program administration, further amplifying the need for judicial intervention.

viii) Claim Eight: Violation of Section 1981 (Equal Rights Under the Law)

Supporting Facts:

1. Section 1981 guarantees all individuals within the United States the right to make and enforce contracts and to enjoy the full benefits of their contractual relationships without racial discrimination.

2. Plaintiff, as a Black female with a Section 8 voucher, entered into a contractual relationship with DHA, which included the management of her voucher and the payment of rent on her behalf to the landlord, Sabine Apartments.
3. DHA failed to fulfill its contractual obligations, which disproportionately affected Plaintiff as a member of a protected racial class. Statistical evidence shows that Black women are disproportionately affected by housing instability, and DHA's actions perpetuated this inequity.
4. By failing to administer the Section 8 program equitably, DHA denied Plaintiff her right to the full and equal benefits of her housing contract, in violation of Section 1981.
5. DHA's discriminatory practices represent a broader pattern of neglect and bias within public housing administration, necessitating urgent judicial intervention.

ix) Claim Nine: Violation of Section 1982 (Property Rights of Citizens)

Supporting Facts:

1. Section 1982 guarantees all U.S. citizens the same rights to lease, hold, and enjoy property, regardless of race.
2. Plaintiff's lease agreement for the apartment at Sabine Apartments constitutes a protected property interest under Section 1982.
3. DHA's failure to process voucher payments and fulfill its obligations under the Section 8 program directly undermined Plaintiff's ability to retain and enjoy her property rights.
4. DHA's conduct reflects systemic issues that disproportionately harm Black individuals, including Plaintiff, who faces an imminent eviction due to DHA's discriminatory neglect. This constitutes a violation of Section 1982.
5. The erosion of Plaintiff's property rights as a result of DHA's actions underscores the broader impact of systemic bias within housing program administration, highlighting the urgent need for redress.

x) Statement of Claims: Claim Ten: Violation of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964

Supporting Facts:

1. Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 prohibits discrimination on the grounds of race, color, or national origin in any program or activity receiving federal financial assistance. DHA is a federally funded entity subject to Title VI of 1964 the civil rights Act Hereafter “Title VI”).

2. Exhibit 6 is a screenshot evidence that Denver Housing Authority is a federal funding recipient.

3. Plaintiff is a Black female of Ugandan national origin, a protected class under Title VI, and a participant in DHA's federally funded Section 8 program.
4. DHA's actions effectively excluded Plaintiff from participation in the Section 8 program by failing to fulfill its obligations to make timely rent payments, resulting in eviction proceedings against Plaintiff.
5. DHA's failure to pay the agreed-upon rent also denied Plaintiff the benefits of the Section 8 program, which is designed to ensure affordable housing for eligible participants.
6. Statistical evidence shows that Black women disproportionately face barriers in accessing and maintaining stable housing under federally funded programs. DHA's conduct exemplifies this systemic inequity by subjecting Plaintiff to discriminatory treatment and preventing her from enjoying the program's intended benefits.

7. DHA's discriminatory actions violated Plaintiff's rights under Title VI by denying her participation, enjoyment of federally funded program and benefits based on her race, color, and national origin.
